Marc Carletti to leave SIX Group

Marc Carletti, a member of the Group Executive Board of SIX Group and CEO of its Financial Information division, has announced that he will leave the company. He is departing on his own volition. The Board of Directors and Group Executive Board of SIX Group regret his departure and extend their thanks for his services in building up SIX Group and managing SIX Telekurs. Both corporate bodies wish him all the best and great success in his future endeavours.

Marc Carletti has borne responsibility for the Group's international financial information business. With more than 1300 employees as well as business offices in 23 countries throughout the world, it represents the SIX Group's largest division. The core activities of the division centre on the procurement, processing and distribution of international financial information.

Jörg Buser, CEO of Rolotec, will take over as head of the Financial Information division on an ad interim basis. He has a profound grasp of the financial data business. Rolotec AG, which was founded in 1985, is one of the leading IT and software companies in Switzerland. The firm specialises in tailor-made financial software as well as knowledge management and operating solutions. As a general contractor, Rolotec attends to all aspects of a given project – from the original concept, to specifications, planning, realisation and implementation, through to the post-project maintenance and support of applications and services.
