

The Future of Partnerships Is Now

Join Our Global Community of Partners Leading Data-Driven Financial Services

Our partnerships span business sectors and geographies and are defined by a unique culture; we are united by a desire to shape a common economic future. When partnerships work, everybody wins.

Our vision

For us, the future isn't wait and see. It isn't guesswork. Instead, the future is defined by our actions today. If we don't innovate and create new data and services today, then our tomorrow will be the same. Data-driven markets and open distribution platforms define our path; Our global technology partners are building the capital markets infrastructure for this future, so as a primary content aggregator, creator and data supplier of business-critical financial information we know the importance of creating the data and services that support the growth of our partners.

Our mission

Purpose-driven, together we will solve our mutual clients' and prospects' challenges with a collaborative approach and open mindset, using the latest APIs and Cloud technologies designed to deliver.

Global Partner Program

The Global Partner Program from SIX is a tiered, performance-based initiative designed to enable and incentivize long-term collaboration and competitive edge; using the unique data and services aggregated and created by SIX.

The 3-level program offers a range of incentives and benefits to qualified channel and alliance partners. In addition, we offer programs for Consultancies and software development companies interested in partnering with SIX.

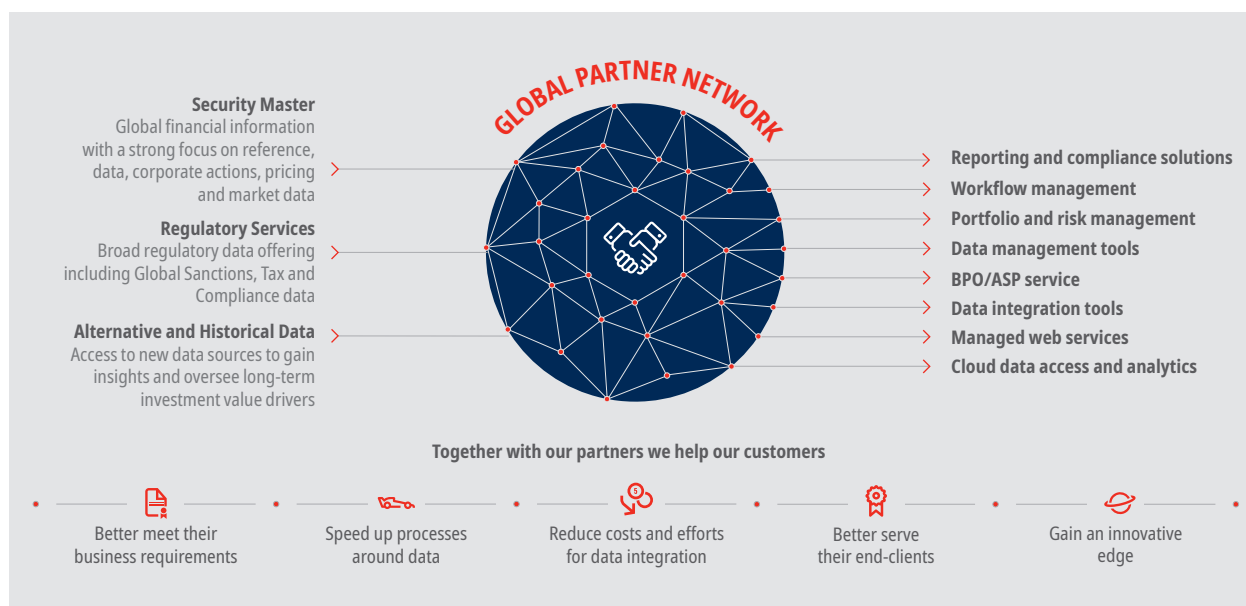

We strongly believe that through real collaboration and continual innovation, in synergy with our global partner network, we can together genuinely solve the challenges in data and data management faced by our clients.

As an established business, we know from experience that collaboration, partnering and co-creation generate exceptional results.

Whether you are a cloud platform supporting asset or wealth management, a workflow solution supporting asset owners, or a SaaS model for investment banking, we will collaborate for the best return on investment.
