This message concerns:

Markets: SIX Swiss Exchange BME

Interfaces: BME Data Feed SIX MDDX

Dear Customer,

Please find enclosed a provisional update of the SIX MDDX Interface Specification as well as the List of Changes, FAQs, Code tables and Data Dictionary documents. They contain details about the migration of BME Data in the SIX MDDX Data Feed.

Member Test environment will be available from 22 September 2021 onwards.

We draw to your attention that in this first phase of tests the enclosed updated documentation solely covers BME equity and indices data packages. Comprehensive final documentation covering all BME data packages will be delivered in due time.

Business and technical support for SIX MDDX® will be provided by the BME Customer Support. Technical connectivity support for the SIX MDDX interface will be provided by the Local Support Centers of SIX Swiss Exchange. You will find contact details at the end of this message.

For questions and feedback on the new SIX MDDX Interface Specification, please send your comments to the BME Customer Support.

Yours sincerely,

Exfeed Ltd.
