SIX Swiss Exchange launches new real estate indices SXI Real Estate®

In response to a widely observed need on the real estate market, SIX Swiss Exchange will add real estate to its SXI index family as of 1 December 2009. Besides to the existing benchmarks, the SWX Immobilienfonds Index and the SWX Swiss Real Estate Index, which are to continue with new names, SIX Swiss Exchange has created four new indicators for real estate shares and funds. The SXI Swiss Real Estate Shares brings together the five largest and most liquid real estate shares, while the SXI Swiss Real Estate Funds includes the ten largest and most liquid real estate funds listed on the Swiss Exchange. In addition to these, SIX Swiss Exchange will bring together these real estate asset classes in two further indices.

As part of the efforts to harmonize the SIX Swiss Exchange index rules, two rule changes affecting the life sciences sector will be introduced at the same time as the new indices. Firstly, the stock weighting caps will now be adjusted quarterly (as for the SLI Swiss Leader Index). Secondly, the index composition will now be adjusted annually (on the occasion of the ordinary review in September).

The rules governing the SXI family valid from 1 December 2009 can be found on the SIX Swiss Exchange website (Link).
