

Regulatory Document Hub

Search, download, archive and report on all regulatory documents using a single tool

Ensure your documents are available where and when they need to be leveraging the distribution platform by SIX. A single interface to download up-to-date regulatory documents throughout the product lifecycle and a complete audit trail, the Regulatory Document Hub will help your distribution network save time and ensure investor protection compliance.

With new regulations in place, are your documents compliant?

Under the new regulations, retail advisors who are selling PRIIPs must now ensure that consumers receive a Key Information Document (KID) outlining the investor typology, risks and costs of the investment. Buy-side distributors must ensure that clients receive the documents in the pre-sale phase as well as timely updated versions throughout the product's lifecycle.

On-demand retrieval of up-to-date KIDs

In addition, retail advisors must be able to access the KID for the products they are selling at any time or else they will not be legally allowed to execute the sale. With every lifecycle event, a new KID must be issued and every document must be archived.

Sourcing pre-sales documents from multiple product manufacturers and making these readily available for advisors is presenting an ongoing challenge for financial institutions.

A one-stop-shop for your document management

The SIX Regulatory Document Hub provides access to documents generated by hundreds of manufacturers. It provides a single point of access for distributors and retail advisors. Our document hub stores all pre-sales documents such as PRIIP-KIDs, German PIBs, UCITS KIIDs and other factsheets in one central location, making it easy to source up-to-date documents.

A single interface with a full audit trail

Our solution allows buy-side institutions to retrieve documents from all manufacturers from a single interface, removing the need for these institutions to establish and maintain separate interfaces for each manufacturer. Each time they retrieve a document, the tool creates an automated audit trail, ensuring quick, compliant audit processes.

Automated document handling

Our solution also ensures the distribution network can manage their regulatory documents quickly and efficiently. All documents can be downloaded from one place instead of checking all manufacturer websites individually.

This industry-wide document management tool therefore allows retailers to maximize the number of manufacturers featured on their product shelf and ensures that they can take advantage of any opportunities by having timely access to the documents they need.
